THE COMPILING OF THIS VOLUME

This complete listing of Wayne County Marriages from 1813 to 1888 inclusive, was built on material copied, typed and bound by local members of the D. A. R. some 30 years ago. The Genealogical section saw the advantage in having an alphabetical listing of persons married rather than the year by year listing of males only as the former work, which stopped with the year 1864. Thus entries for the females in proper alphabetical order were to be included.

First, cards were used to copy the marriages, one for the male, one for the female listing person, spouse, date, and officiating person. Since some researchers might wish to obtain a copy of the marriage record or check the original entry for themselves, it was decided to include the volume and page number in the Probate Court records where it could be found. As this was done all records were checked as to names, Exact dates,etc. Many which had been overlooked in the original work were included in this summary.

It was apparent that knowledge of the place where the marriage took place would be of help in locating persons. Thus lists of Justices and ministers along with where they served were constructed. Then on the cards the township where he served was recorded for as many as possible.

When the cards were completed, it seemed worthwhile to consider publishing the material in book form to aid researchers elsewhere. Part one contains this information as it appears on the cards.

The need to go farther became apparent, which had been completed through 1866.

After 1866 each volume in the court records is grouped separately, and the data there-in arranged in a separate alphabetical listing; first, males with the spouse and date with the page number where it is found; then a separate female cross-reference alphabetical listing makes it possible to find any person with ease. Part two takes us through the year 1888 and volumes 7, 8, 9, 10 and part of 11.

In many volumes it was recorded that licenses had been issued to a pair but no record of actual marriage was to be found. We know that many if not all of these people were married. Part three lists in the same manner some 1500 such cases from 1838 to 1888.

Credit should be given to many persons who helped make this data available. Mrs. Roth, who headed the group which did the previous work, provided a good base upon which to begin. Helping put the material on cards were Joanne Amstutz, Marguerite Bauer, Laura Berry, Ken Darrow, Faye Grunder, Ruth Liggett, and Ruth Williams. The Probate Court Judge and his staff, especially Julia Slater, helped us find material and provided a place to do the work. They also took the time to explain the system of how the records were kept.

LICENSING AND RECORDING MARRIAGES IN WAYNE COUNTY OHIO

The law required a license in order for a person to marry since the beginning of Wayne County in 1812. Ministers and justices of the peace mention being shown the licenses in the reports they sent in to the County Courts indicating that they had performed the ceremony and the date they had performed it as well as the date when they had written the report.

There is no preserved record of licenses to marry having been issued until 1838. A Volume "4C" lists a single line entry with the date issued and the two people who wished to marry. This volume was used until 1858. From 1858 to 1861 licenses granted and affadavits affirming age and eligibility to marry were recorded in a "Volume 1" entitled Affidavits. This volume had printed forms to be filled in.

During this early period ministers sent in a small scrap of paper indicating they had performed the marriage for the spouses and the date. A court official copied these in a simple lined book. The seven books are numbered 1, 2, 3, 4A, 4B, 4½, and 5. Only volume 5 has an alphabetical index in front with the man's surname placing it cronologically on a page with all those beginning with the same letter. The page where it is found follows the names of the two being married.

An attempt was made to index volumes 1-4½(in the same manner) in a volume entitled "Marriage Index Vol. 1-4. A single half-line lists males with the surnames beginning with the same letter in the order in which licenses were obtained. Opposite this is listed the page in Vol. 4C (mentioned above) where the application is found. Then written in the margin and between the lines is the number of the page where the marriage was recorded when it was reported. The sequence and a different color of ink is the only way in which to tell what volume it is in. Many in 4C are without numbers, indicating the record of the marriage was not sent in, was lost, or the couple changed their minds. At the time there was a $50 fine for failure of a person failing to report a marriage to the court, but this apparently was unheeded.

The condition of the volumes is good, and the probate court has recently laminated and re-bound Volumes 1, 2, 3, and 4A to ensure their preservation for years to come.

1861 - 1899 (Volumes 6 through 13)

Beginning in 1861 volumes containing printed pages were used. This form (three to a page) is divided into three sections. The center is the affadavit for the man to sign and consent for minors to be signed. The left hand section indicates the license was granted and the date. The right hand section is filled in when the minister reports that he performed the marriage and the date. It includes the person's name who performed the marriage as well. This greatly simplified researching. However, no parent's names, ages, place of residence or other data is listed. Here again, many of the forms contain nothing in the section which indicated that the marriage was actually performed and when. Indexes by surname of the male are found in the front of these volumes. As a part of this project a female cross-reference was done. It is available for volumes 7 - 10 (1861 - 1888)

After 1899 (Volumes 14 and on)

The format was changed. Half-page printed forms to be filled out were included. These contain the parents name, the mothers before marriage, exact age in months, days and years, residence, whether a previous marriage, when license was issued, and when and by whom the marriage was performed. These volumes contain indexes for the female as well as the male.
